"Phenomenal."

—Mark E., lawyer

Learn to Draw takes participants from drawing novices to artists extraordinaire in about one hour.

This fun hands-on and interactive experience is not your typical employee retreat or lunchtime empowerment presentation—it's an opportunity to amaze yourself, improve mental health, and increase productivity.

Learn to draw a recognizable portrait with stunning accuracy.

For interns, C-suite, and everyone inbetween.

Based in Los Angeles, California, and we travel internationally. References available.

Length of presentation: 1-1.5 hours.

The artist presenting is Rick Penn-Kraus, a fine artist, illustrator, and creative director for publishing and marketing firms.

Requirements: Tables or desks to draw on, or clipboards on your lap. Microphone for large groups. We provide pencils, erasers, and paper.
